

PLEASE BE ADVISED:

Pursuant to NAC 630.530 Renewal of license: Your respiratory care license will not be renewed unless you have completed the required number of contact hours of continuing professional education. Two hours of the total must be in medical ethics. Therefore, if you cannot respond in the affirmative to the question on the application for licensure renewal that asks whether you have completed the required number of CE units, please do not attempt to renew at this time, as your license cannot be renewed. You must complete the required number of contact hours of continuing professional education before you renew your license.

Your license may be included in the random audit. If you begin the renewal process and receive the following message (displayed in red), "You have been selected for the random CE unit audit. Please fax proof of CE to (775) 688-2551," this means that your license has been included in the random audit and you must fax proof of your CE units to (775) 688-2551 in order to complete the renewal process. Your license will not be renewed until proof of your CE units has been reviewed and approved. Do not wait to renew! Renew early to avoid CE unit audit review delays and subsequent expiration of your license if the review cannot be completed prior to February 28, 2010!

If any of your submitted responses are later determined to be false, misleading, inaccurate, or incomplete, you may be subject to formal discipline pursuant to NAC 630.540(23) and NRS 630.304(1).
